Review

Covert-19 is a health crisis manifesting with severe economic ramifications. There is a heightened level of anxiety, with fear feeding on fear.

Despite the way the media is portraying this crisis it will NOT last forever – the fear will subside; people will get better and life will return to the new “normal”.

Outstanding opportunities will present, and the markets will recover.

Currently we have taken a defensive approach to the portfolio with our focus on researching which markets, sectors and stocks will lead and outperform in the recovery stage and when this is going to happen.

It is certainly a very testing time for investors however you can be assured that we have a strong methodology with a repeatable process which we will continue to be true to.
